Beneficiaries and Target Population

Our programs and special projects are designed to advance the rights and development of vulnerable populations, particularly women, youth, persons with disabilities. We work with governments, civil society organizations, private sector firms and academia.

Our work to support migrants and refugees

The Trust is part of a regional initiative to raise awareness of the plight of Venezuelan migrants and refugees, now dramatically worsened by the Covid-19 crisis. We have put together a private-public task force that leads the different efforts to address the needs of Venezuelan migrants in the region. In the Andean countries, we are addressing topics related to digital citizenship, entrepreneurial training, and prevention of hate speech emphasizing Venezuelan migrants.

For further information, we have created a specific website with the goals, activities, and programs that we have thought for Venezuelan migrants and how we are fundraising for each of them: https://www.thetrustfortheamericas.org/programs/POETA/Venezuela

Guyana
We are working with the Ambassador of Guyana to the OAS to put together a comprehensive plan to ensure we address the problem of vulnerable communities in Guyana. We are putting together an empowerment and inclusion program to address migrants’ and recipient communities’ needs, and we are going to approach Exxon with a specific proposal for funding.

Trinidad and Tobago
We have presented CITI with a proposal for social and economic inclusion or vulnerable communities and migrants arriving in Trinidad and Tobago. It would be an exciting opportunity to analyze a program for financial inclusion, as well.
Our Presence and Historical Footprint

With more than 2.5 million people impacted, The Trust is committed to continue changing the lives of millions more in the years to come. POETA-Partnerships for Economic Opportunities through Technology in the Americas

POETA is a regional initiative that promotes digital literacy, life skills and job readiness to advance economic opportunities for vulnerable groups, particularly at-risk youth, women and people with disabilities. At its core, POETA aims to bridge the inequality gap in the region through a multidisciplinary approach that helps participants develop life plans, start or strengthen social and economic ventures, secure a job, internship or further education opportunities. To this end, POETA operates through a network of technology centers, spaces equipped with computers, adapted technologies and learning materials.

POETA Social Franchise (PSF)

A social development model created by The Trust for the Americas. Since 2011, The Trust for the Americas has taken up the challenge of systematizing the experience and content generated in the implementation of the POETA Accessible, POETA Joven and Mi Llave Programs, to create a portfolio of products, services, and benefits through memberships under a social franchise model to make the initiative sustainable in the long run. PSF has received several awards such as the Dubai International Award for Best Practices (2008), the Stockholm Challenge (2008), Best Practice for the fulfillment of the Millennium Development Goals - MDG of the United Nations Program for the Development - UNDP (2010), The Computerworld Honors Program (2012) and Zero Project of Essl Foundation, World Future Council and European Foundation Center (2013).
VIVE Project

VIVE is a Spanish acronym for "Come, Be Inspired and Sell". The Walmart Foundation supports VIVE in Mexico in partnership with the ManpowerGroup Foundation. Since 2016, VIVE has increased economic empowerment of Mexican women through training in technical skills (sales, retail, customer service) and life skills (entrepreneurship, effective communication and leadership). The training is aimed at low-income women over 15 years old from vulnerable communities. VIVE has a presence in 184 municipalities, in 28 Mexican states. In 2018, The Trust added a course on prevention of violence against girls and women to the VIVE curriculum. The project's objective is to increase participants' chances of accessing formal economic opportunities and reduce gender violence.

Resources: Aula Virtual, Open Classroom

The Trust is promoting online training to extend our reach and impact on vulnerable communities. During the Covid-19 crisis this is proving particularly relevant. Our online classroom is accessible 24/7, and includes training, seminars and self-paced courses for local partners and beneficiaries in 21 countries. You can preview the contents here.
DIA – Democratizing Innovation in the Americas

DIA is a regional initiative launched to foster innovation and empower new generations through access to state-of-the-art technology training, collaboration spaces, specialized curricula, mentorship and financial resources for social and economic ventures. The goal is to activate the hidden potential and talents of vulnerable individuals. DIA promotes livelihood opportunities and good governance in the region. DIA brings together academia, civil society, governments, private sector entities, entrepreneurs and young innovators.

Online Resources: Open Government Knowledge Bank

The Trust has created a solid knowledge base of content about the impact and benefits of open government in the region. We have created an open library available to any government and civil society organization in the region. You can access our online library here.
One of our main sponsors is Microsoft. We built a strong relationship that started with one pilot project in Guatemala in 2004, and grew to consolidate a network of 221 centers in 2020. In 2019, as part of the 15th year partnership celebration, we published a success story book.
